OPERA-HOUSE OPENING

Entertainments Will Be the Best of Home Talent.

FEBRUARY SIXTH THE DATES.

As a city her inhabitants are very slow to take hold of and push an enterprise which favors of a public nature; but once get a Corporal's guard of fluence together and you have let down the bar which holds the flood-gate.

Now in the present instance of getting an entertainments of home talent to open the portals of our handsome Opera-house, as well as to be a means whereby money may be raised for a worthy object, this same contention has put them in charge at the onset, has persuaded them, in truth, a little longer than usual to their amusements and worry. But with dogged perseverance and a persistent bon of usefulness service and zeal for others' benefit, all opposition has been outdone and harmony reigns.

The piousness, which when launched was pronounced topography and unsafe, has convinced her critics that such is not the case. She swayed with grace when her blocks gave way, and as she glided into the way arms of the ocean she kissed her lover and her husband stood erect and dignified in her appointed place.

The Macon Orchestra is practicing hard, the Y. M. C. A. Physical Director will have a fine class to exhibit intricate movements and figures, the Knights of St. John will entertain with a display of tactics, and in elegant uniform, with march and movement which in precision itself, and Miss Edith DeWitt with marvelous skill in costumes and dances.

There are but a few of the many attractions which are given to convince our readers that while home people will hold the boards for the first time, yet no humping will be perpetrated and no sell rendered.

If you did not know any of those parties present and see them in a traveling show you would not only pay 50 cents or 75 cents but applaud and pronounce them first class.

Suppose you begin now and change the aphorism "A Prophet," "No, so as to read 'I with honor in his home town.'"

Mr. S. A. Fackler, Editor of the Micanops (Pa.) Hustler, with his wife and children, all freed from La Grippe. One Minute Cough Cure was the only remedy that helped them. It acted quickly. Thousands of others use this remedy as a sure cure for La Grippe, and its exhausting after-effects. Never fail. Henry W. Ray, advertising Postoffice.
